

GROUP PURPOSE STATEMENT:

EXFL Network is a professional peer group of executive female leaders (directors and above) within the independent grocery industry. Sponsored by WGA, the intention of the Network is to create a professional community of executive female leaders and support their continued, relevant development to allow them to achieve their fullest career potential and business growth.

BENEFITS:

EXFL provides the opportunity for women in retail, wholesale, supplier, manufacturer and vendor communities to meet in person, problem-solve, openly swap ideas/share experiences and much more. This network will provide opportunity for both personal and professional growth.

EXFL will meet two times per year in person with opportunities for virtual touch points, breakout sessions and networking opportunities throughout the year.

PARTICIPANT EXPECTATIONS:

Members will be invited to attend 2 in-person meetings each year and are encouraged to participate in ongoing networking and idea exchange opportunities throughout the year.

Meetings may be held in conjunction with NGA events or as standalone meetings potentially at member or sponsor facilities. Meeting agendas will include both formal presentations by professional speakers and member presentations.

Members are encouraged to attend all in person sessions to take full advantage of the network. Members may be asked to give presentations to the group on current topics and participate in idea sharing of concepts that have worked well.

FEES:

- Annual dues: $150 (invoiced annually by NGA).
- Meeting registration fee: $400 includes materials and most meals; attendees are responsible for their own travel and hotel expenses.
